The secret to Fire Grain's delicate smoky aroma lies in its unique creation. This special kind of durum wheat it's being harvested once a year in the Galilee Hills, capturing a rare 2-week "window" while the wheat is still young, soft and green.

Immediately following the harvest, the freekeh is roasted over an open fire, right within the field - in a unique state of the art facility that simulates the traditional roasting method used 2000 years ago.

FREEKEH – THE GRAIN THAT WAS BORN FROM THE FIRE

One of the world's most ancient grain with a distinct nutty, smoky flavor.

2 star Great Taste Award Winner 2019

Freekeh is a popular Middle Eastern grain, gathered and brought to you straight from the Galilee Hills. Since 2000 years the Galilean locals produce Freekeh the authentic way, tending the same fields and then burning the green wheat and rubbing it clean just as their ancestors did, to bring the amazing health benefits and delicious taste of this ancient grain to kitchens everywhere.
